Military leave may only be used by active members of the US Armed Forces which include: United States Marine Corp, United States Army, United States Navy, United States Air Force, Arkansas National Guard, and all reserve branches of the armed forces.

There are 5 types of military leave available to state employees:

1. Called to regular active duty;
2. Annual training, including drill;
3. Called to duty in emergency situations;
4. Called to duty for specialized training; and
5. Treatment for a service-connected disability

Regular Active Duty

A regular, full-time employee who is drafted or called to active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States or who volunteers for military service, shall be placed on extended military leave without pay.

All unused sick leave at the time of military leave will be reinstated at the time the employee returns. All accrued, unused annual leave at the time of military leave will be reinstated at the time the employee returns to state employment unless the employee requested and received a lump-sum payment for the accrued, unused annual leave when placed on the extended military leave.

Employees performing active military service for fewer than 31 days must report for reemployment on the first regularly scheduled workday within 8 hours after discharge from military service. Those serving more than 30 days but less than 181 days must report within 14 days after discharge. Those serving more than 180 days must report for reemployment within 90 days after discharge from military service.

The employee will be reinstated to the position vacated or an equivalent position for which he or she is qualified in the same agency or its successor in interest. The employee shall not lose any seniority rights or any of the other benefits and privileges of employment.

Former employees returning to State service after military service, but who extended their enlistment or re-enlisted for additional military service beyond the initial period for more than a period of 4 years will lose all re-instatement rights and will be considered a rehire. Military service time may be extended beyond the 5 year period for reasons stated in 38 US Code Section 4312(c).

Annual Training

Employees participating in military training programs made available National Guard or any of the reserve branches or the US Public Health Service training program shall be entitled to a leave of absence for a period of 15 days plus necessary travel time for annual training requirements, including drill requirements, or other duties performed in an official duty status in any one calendar year. To the extent this leave is not used in a calendar year, it will accumulate for use in the succeeding calendar year until it totals 15 days at the beginning of the calendar year. An employee who requests military leave shall furnish a copy of his or her orders for his or her personnel file.

Whenever an employee of a political subdivision is granted military leave for a period of 15 days per calendar year or fiscal year, the military leave will accumulate for use in succeeding calendar years or fiscal years until it totals 15 days at the beginning of the calendar year or fiscal year, for a maximum number of military leave days available in any one calendar year or fiscal year to be 30 days.

The period of military service shall, for purposes of computations to determine whether such person may be entitled to retirement benefits, be deemed continuous service and the employee shall not be required to make contributions to any retirement fund. The state agency or political subdivision shall continue to contribute its portion of any life or disability insurance premiums during the leave of absence on behalf of the employee, if requested, so that continuous coverage may be maintained.

When an employee is granted a leave of absence under this, he or she shall be entitled to his or her regular salary during the time he or she is away from his or her duties during such leave of absence. This leave of absence shall be in addition to the regular annual leave accrued by the employee. During a leave of absence, the employee shall be entitled to preserve all seniority rights, efficiency or performance ratings, promotional status, retirement privileges, life and disability insurance benefits, and any other rights, privileges, and benefits to which they have become entitled.

Emergency Situation

Regular, full-time state agency employees who are called to active duty in emergency situations (and in situations covered by 10 United States Code §12304) as declared by the Governor or President shall be granted leave with pay not to exceed 30 working days. Periods beyond the 30 day limit may be charged as annual leave at the employee's option and, if necessary, as leave without pay.

Revised: September 8, 2017

Emergency situations means any case of invasion, disaster, insurrection, riot, breach of peace, or imminent danger; threats to the public health or security; or threats to the maintenance of law and order.

The reinstated employee will not lose any seniority rights with respect to leave accrual rates, salary increases, Reduction in Force policies, or other benefits and privileges of employment. The period of military service, for purposes of computations to determine whether such persons may be entitled to retirement benefits, should be deemed continuous service and the employee shall not be required to make any contributions to any state supported retirement fund. To receive service credit for retirement purposes, a copy of the employee's DD214 must be submitted to the appropriate retirement system. The retirement system will notify the appropriate agency to remit the employer's contributions to update the employee's account.

To be eligible for emergency active military duty paid leave, the employee must be actively employed by the state and submit a copy of military orders for each emergency deployment. Military leave for emergency active duty situations is granted in addition to annual military leave for training purposes and annual leave.

Specialized Training

An employee who volunteers or is ordered to duty for the purpose of special training is placed on leave without pay for the period of training unless the employee elects to use accrued annual leave. This training is considered sporadic and separate from the required annual training. This leave without pay is given in addition to the paid leave for annual military training.

The employee retains eligibility rights including accumulated annual leave (unless the above option has been exercised) and any sick leave not used at the time the employee begins the training. The employee does not accumulate annual or sick leave during a leave without pay period, and the annual leave accrual rate will be calculated as though there had been no period of absence.

Service-Connected Disability

All state agency employees who have been rated by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs or its predecessor to have incurred a military service-connected disability and have been scheduled to be reexamined or treated for the disability shall be entitled to a leave of absence with pay.
