History and Organization

The Arkansas Constitution, adopted in 1874, has constitutional provisions relating to sovereign immunity. The permissive provisions of the Constitution leave the decision of whether to abrogate the doctrine and to what extent, to the discretion of the General Assembly. Arkansas' Constitution in Article 5, Section 20 states: "The State of Arkansas shall never be made a defendant in any of her courts." This provision has prohibited suits against the State.

The Arkansas General Assembly, while maintaining the State's sovereign immunity, established the Claims Commission to mitigate the impact of the rigid rule of "governmental immunity" while adhering to another constitutional direction that the "General Assembly shall from time to time provide for the payment of all just and legal debts of the State."

By creating the Claims Commission a method was found by which damaged or injured persons could be compensated without the State being made a defendant in any of its courts. The first Claims Commission, consisting of the State Auditor, Attorney General and State Comptroller, was created to review claims.

The General Assembly, thereafter, biennially established a special Claims Commission and appropriated money to pay the claims approved by that Commission. This special Claims Commission was replaced by the Board of Fiscal Control in 1945 with the passage of Act 53 of 1945 and, subsequently, by Act 462 of 1949.

In response to a demand for a body removed from political influence that could efficiently determine claims filed against the State, the General Assembly, in Act 276 of 1955, created the Arkansas State Claims Commission as it is known today. Act 861 of 1985 increased the size of the Claims Commission from three to five members, but did not otherwise affect Act 276 of 1955. The ceiling for immediate payment of claims (not including statutorily specified public employee death benefits claims) is $15,000: claims approved by the Commission exceeding $15,000 are brought before the General Assembly at its next regular or special session. The Commission's final and binding decision on claims can be appealed only to the General Assembly to be reversed, amended or returned to the Commission for further review.

Mission Statement-Jurisdiction and Responsibilities:

A.C.A. §19-10-201 et seq. defines the role of the State Claims Commission. The Claims Commission is a quasi-judicial body established by the Arkansas General Assembly as its arm to hear claims against the State of Arkansas, since such tort-type claims as personal injury, property damage, breach of contract, and other designated claim types, due to the State's constitutional sovereign immunity, cannot be brought in the State courts.

Primary Activities:

While living in various locations across the State, the five Commissioners convene hearings on claims in Little Rock, Department of Correction units, or at other sites several days each month.

Agency Commentary

As the result of a recent decision of the Claims Review Subcommittee and the indication that there may be changes in the statutory language covering state provided public employee death benefits, the Arkansas State Claims Commission is, out of an abundance of caution, requesting an additional $150,000.00 in Fund Center 228, Various Claims. The total available for the payment of claims each fiscal year will increase to a total of $1,900,000.00, from the current appropriation of $1,750,000.00.
