About

The Winthrop Rockefeller Institute (the Institute) is a nonprofit organization that serves our mission through a combination of place, people, and process. We believe that valuing diversity of opinion, practicing collaborative problem solving, and engaging in respectful dialogue combine to create that transformational change. We call our process the Rockefeller Ethic. We live out our mission by facilitating programs, giving workshops, and hosting conferences. All of this activity employs the Rockefeller Ethic, which is rooted in the values and leadership of Winthrop Rockefeller
