5.3 Discrimination

GDIT prohibits discrimination in any aspect of the employment process based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, transgender status, genetic information, protected veteran status, service in the United States uniformed services, and any other class where protected under applicable state or local law, such as religious creed, ancestry, marital status, gender, gender expression, and medical condition. Discrimination is a form of misconduct that undermines the integrity of the employment relationship. No employee should be subjected to derogatory comments, jokes, display of pictures or objects, innuendo, or other such objectionable conduct.

Abuse of anyone's dignity through ethnic, racist, religious, or sexist remarks, or other derogatory conduct that creates an offensive, unprofessional work environment, will not be tolerated, even though such conduct may not necessarily constitute a violation of applicable law in each case.

5.3.1 Prohibited Discrimination

GDIT strictly prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, transgender status, genetic information, protected veteran status, service in the United States uniformed services, and any other class where protected under applicable state and local law, such as religious creed, ancestry, marital status, gender, gender expression, and medical condition. Additionally, the company prohibits discrimination against employees or applicants because they have inquired about, discussed, or disclosed information about their own compensation or such shared personally with them by another employee or applicant. However, employees who have the compensation information of other employees or applicants as a part of their essential job functions must keep such information confidential and may not disclose the compensation information of other employees or applicants to individuals who do not have a legitimate need to know the information for GDIT business purposes. Refer to HR-POL-309, Privacy and Security of Personal Information.

Other forms of prohibited conduct are covered in HR-POL-304, Unacceptable Workplace Conduct and Harassment.

This policy also prohibits behavior that creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment for an individual because he or she honestly and in good faith initiated, assisted, or participated in an investigation or other proceeding by or before any court, tribunal, or governmental agency regarding conduct that violates federal, state, local, provincial, or country laws, including, but not limited to, Title VII of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and 1990, the Equal Pay Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Pregnancy Discrimination Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act as amended, the Service Contract Act, the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, the False Claims Act, the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Genetic Information Non-Discrimination Act, and the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

A request by a complainant that no investigation be made, or that the alleged offending party not be informed of the complaint, cannot and will not be honored. GDIT will keep a complaint confidential to the extent possible, limiting information to those individuals who have a "need to know" while taking into account the company's obligation to conduct a prompt and thorough investigation of the complaint.

5.5 Consequences for Violations/Discipline
