Who Must File?

Whether or not you have to file a tax return depends on your filing status and gross income.

Full Year Residents of Arkansas for tax year 2022 must file a tax return if:

- Single, and gross income* was at least $13,447

Or

- Head of household with:

1 or no dependent, and gross income was at least $19,118

2 or more dependents, and gross income* was at least $22,790

Or

- Married filing a joint return with:

1 or no dependent, and gross income* was at least $22,676

2 or more dependents, and gross income was at least $27,292

Or

- Surviving Spouse in 2020 or 2021 and not remarried in 2022:

Surviving Spouse with 1 dependent and gross income* was at least $19,118

With 2 or more dependents and gross income* was at least $22,790

Note: If your gross income was less than the amount shown for your filing status, you are not required to file a return. However, you must file a complete return to claim any refund due.

Nonresidents of Arkansas who received any gross income* from Arkansas sources must file a return (Regardless of marital status, filing status, or gross income amount).

Part Year Residents of Arkansas who received any gross income* while an Arkansas resident, must file a return (Regardless of marital status, filing status, or gross income amount).

Gross income is all income (before deductions) other than income specifically described as exempt on pages 9 & 10 of the AR1000F & AR1000NR Instructions.
